Sohan Lal Commodity Management (SLCM), one of India's largest post-harvest logistics and agri-solutions companies, has been awarded the Excellence in Agri-Warehousing Award by the Confederation of Indian Industry (CII).

The award was presented at the 12th edition of the Supply Chain and Logistics Excellence (SCALE) Awards organised by the CII. SCALE Awards honour organisations that set industry benchmarks through innovation, operational excellence and best-in-class supply chain practices.

SLCM was recognised by the jury for its unified post-harvest management platform, which integrates scientific warehousing, AI-based quality testing, certifications, funding against storage receipts, and real-time monitoring of the commodity lifecycle into a single phygital ecosystem, said a statement from the company.

PATENTED APPLICATION

This phygital platform has enabled a significant reduction in post-harvest losses, while enhancing transparency and speed across every stage of commodity handling. The recognition highlights the transformative impact of SLCM's flagship solutions, Agri Reach and Agri Suraksha, both of which continue to redefine efficiency, transparency and trust in the agriculture value chain, said Sandeep Sabharwal, Group CEO of Sohan Lal Commodity Management Ltd.

The statement said the jury was particularly impressed by the scalability and precision of SLCM's cutting-edge and patented Agri Reach application, which integrates a robust Warehouse Management System and AI-enabled quality control (QC) mechanism.

It is the fifth time the company has won the CII SCALE Awards, after winning under various categories in 2017, 2018, 2019 and 2024.
